Good Evening!

Heat In Canadian Relations Subsides

All quiet on the Birmingham front.

Biracial citizens committee reaches accord on proposals to end the long conflict and it seems some progress has been made in the thinking on both sides.

Not a pretty picture of America — Birmingham since April 3. Let's hope that now it's a bit more attractive.

Dr. Charlie Muschell's death a pull on the heartstrings of everyone who knew him. Somehow we always felt this noted friend and educator would be with us forever.

A dedicated school man of highest quality and stature and a true gentleman if there ever was one and we just don't know what else there would be to say about a man whose life was devoted to usefulness.

Delhaas Board decides to initiate its own polio inoculation program if the County Commissioners fail to reverse its stand and we think the school directors will have the full support of the public.

It seems to us the county solons were mousetrapped by bad advice when they permitted this school polio program to be scrapped in the first place in favor of completely ineffective Department of Health clinics.

We just can't afford to take chances with the health and welfare of Bucks County's children.

Summer done. This is more typical May capriciousness.

Tropical zephyrs early yesterday turn quickly to shivering breezes. Ma Nature's way of compensating for her early Spring benevolence.

Dern Phillies just can't seem to beat anybody any more. You see where they bowed to the Braves last night. 4-1?

Quite a switch. New York Mets now in seventh place after winning five in a row. Gene Mauch and his charges hanging on to ninth.

A conference has been defined as the confusion of the loudest-talking character multiplied by the number present.

You'll be driving during the weekend, of course. Be careful, please?

Go to church tomorrow.

U.S. Army Fights Private

YAKIMA, Wash. (UPI)—There was Private Daniel J. Arthur peacefully guarding his own private make-believe mine field.

And there, on all sides of him, were 40,000 soldiers on maneuvers armed with very real ammunition.

"I was kind of happy being away from everybody," said Arthur, who had not been told to leave his guard post Thursday in Exercise Coulee Crest, largest peacetime maneuver in the West since World War II.

Jets swooped overhead and dropped fire bombs.

"I tried to wave at them but they didn't see me," said Arthur today. "Then I realized I had the whole Army chasing me. With guns."

Arthur, 17, got out pencil and paper and began writing what he thought was a farewell note to his wife, Wanda.

"It ain't so peaceful here anymore," he wrote. "There are a bunch of jets tearing holy hell out of my hill. It seems like the whole Air Force is out to get me."

Can't Dig In

Arthur couldn't dig in.

"The ground was just too hard," he said. "I just go under my steel pot (helmet) and wait."

It was not a long wait.

Heavy artillery began zeroing in on Private Arthur.

He wrote:

"The bombs and cannon didn't get me but now they've got the artillery after me. Boy, this could drive a guy nuts. I wish they'd stop firing and remember I'm out here."

Then, Private Arthur saw what he thought was trucks approaching.

They were tanks. The tanks opened up at him.

Private Arthur hit the dirt.

Eventually, the tanks rumbled.

Negro Moves Focus On Tennessee Cities

Britain, U.S. Declare Air Fares 'War'

LONDON (UPI) — Britain and the United States declared an air fares "war" today that could ground all transatlantic passenger flights.

The British demanded that America's two transatlantic carriers, Pan American World Airways and Trans-World Airlines, raise roundtrip fares 5 per cent by 7 p.m. EDT Sunday.

The American government's Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) refuses to permit the fare increase.

The aviation ministry here said that, if the two U.S. airlines do not comply, they will not be allowed to land at British airports.

Several other European nations —including France and Belgium —have said they will follow Britain's lead and bar American planes from their airports if they do not raise their fares.

The American government is expected to retaliate by refusing landing rights to planes from Europe.

The center of the controversy is a 5 per cent fare increase for the North Atlantic route agreed on last fall in Chandler, Ariz., by the 92 airlines belonging to the International Air Transport Association (IATA).

Fourteen of the 16 nations that have planes flying the route agreed to the increase, but the Canadian and American governments objected. Another meeting here last month failed to resolve the deadlock.

At that time, CAB Chairman Alan Boyd said the U.S. government considered IATA a "cartel." He said that, although Pan Am and TWA wanted to raise their fares, the CAB disapproved of the plan.

Boyd explained that the CAB has no direct power to rule on fares.

Russians Give 1 Spy Death, 2nd 8 Years

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Supreme Court today sentenced a British businessman to eight years imprisonment and a Russian citizen to death by the firing squad for spying against the Soviet Union.

The verdicts were handed down before a packed courtroom after the two men, 42-year-old Greville Wynne, a Briton, and Oleg Penkovsky, a 43-year-old former Soviet scientific official, made final pleas in a secret hearing.

Both had testified during the five-day trial that they had passed Soviet secret to Western intelligence agencies.

More than 300 spectators, including Wynne's wife, Sheila, jammed into the courtroom to hear the verdict.

The court announced that the first three years of Wynne's sentence must be served in jail and the last five in a corrective labor camp.

Wynne bent forward slightly in the dock and Penkovsky gulped several times when the sentences were read, but neither gave evidence of any great emotion.

Diplomatic sources in Moscow speculated that Wynne would be sent back to England quietly in the verdict.

Crisis Eases In Ala.

United Press International

Nashville, Knoxville and Raleigh today became focal points in the boiling Southwide racial controversy now that the crisis at Birmingham has ended.

In Nashville, Mayor Beverly Briley said a planned demonstration would have been a "real donnybrook" had it not been called off. Negro and white civic leaders sought a solution in Tennessee's capital city.

In the other Tennessee sore spot, Knoxville, 30 Negro and white youths were arrested while staging a protest demonstration in front of a downtown theater.

At Raleigh, N.C., a week of racial tension reached a peak Friday night when 1,000 Negro college students invaded the grounds of the governor's mansion during a symphonic ball.

The demonstration at the mansion capped a day of racial incidents in North Carolina's capital, including the release of more than 100 jailed demonstrators, a downtown "freedom march" and a mass rally. No end to the demonstrations was in sight and Negro leaders said the protests would increase "in intensity."

The chanting, hand-clapping Negroes surged to the steps of the governor's mansion where they shouted "We want (Gov. Terry) Sanford."

The governor responded to the call, appearing on the mansion's steps. He told the crowd that "I've enjoyed your singing" and said he would be glad to talk with them at his office.

"But," Sanford emphasized, "this is neither the time nor the place."

A Negro in the crowd yelled, "We didn't come to entertain you governor." And Sanford replied, "Well, I didn't ask you to come, friend."

"You can come to my office," (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

At Levittown Shop-A-Rama

Campaign To Curb Shoplifting Opens

Levittown Shopping Center store owners are planning a drive against shop lifters, including additional safeguards and publication of all shoplifters' names in the future.

Shop-A-Rama has been hard hit recently by shoplifters. Among them were two Levittown women who used professional "drop" coats — garments with large interior pockets — to conceal merchandise they stole.

The additional safeguards to be instituted were not fully revealed, but were known to include a step-up in shoppers detective service.

According to Horace G. McNab, public relations consultant for Shop-A-Rama, it has been decided by store owners that shoplifters names should be released.

McNab said those who steal deliberately do not deserve protection and those who shoplift because of a psychological problem within themselves should be identified.

"Sometimes their families don't even know they're doing it," McNab remarked.

Your Dream Vacation Slower Than Rocket — But More Luxurious

Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper Jr. is slated to blast off into space Tuesday for a 22-trip whirl around the earth.

That's taking in a lot of sight-seeing in a scheduled 34-hour journey which may one day become the common mode of travel.

But for those who can't wait that long and would like to visit Europe and its most fascinating cities over a 15-day period starting July 13 — there are six days left to make reservations for the Courier-Times dream — vacation to Lisbon — Madrid — Rome — West Berlin and Paris.

You can even include England, Scotland, and Ireland, at no extra air fare if you wish.

Major Cooper's space ship will speed around the globe at better than 25,000 miles-per-hour.

TWA's superjetliner, which will leave Idlewild Airport July 13 with our party of Lower Bucks Countians, will only travel at a mere 600 miles-per-hour.

More Luxurious

That may be a lot slower than Cooper's speed — but it sure will be a more luxurious ride.

Cooper's got his seat reserved for his flight. Do you? Friday, May 17 is the deadline.

Cooper Lives In Hangar

Astronaut Starts Wait In Seclusion

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper Jr. was expected to enter seclusion on Cape Canaveral today to wait out the final three days before his scheduled marathon flight into space.

The slender, 36-year-old Air Force major will hang his hat in private astronaut living quarters at Hangar S, where physicians will keep a close eye on his physical and psychological condition.

If all goes according to plan, Cooper will exchange his familiar sports clothes for a silvery, 20-pound spacesuit next Tuesday and climb aboard a rocket for the most ambitious manned spaceflight ever attempted by the United States — 22 times around the earth in 34 hours.

From the moment he enters the mechanized austerity of Hangar S until he leaves inside a special van for the launching pad, Cooper probably will remain almost entirely away from the frenzy of "build-up" activities going on in the surrounding civilian areas.

Teacher Gets Lie Tests

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—A young male school teacher today awaited further lie detector tests in the slaying of a brunette concert singer.

Police said the man had been a friend of Beverly Samans, 26, of Beckley, W. Va., whose nude, slashed body was found Wednesday night in her apartment near Harvard Square. Miss Samans also had been sexually abused, police said.

Miss Samans had been stabbed 15 times, but the slayer apparently tried to make it appear she had been strangled because two scarves and a stocking were knotted around her neck.

Dr. Peter Delmonico, Middlesex County medical examiner, urged Cambridge police to retain a psychiatrist to assist them in the case.

He said he believed the slayer of Miss Samans is a schizophrenic, a perverted psychopath "between the ages of 19 and 24 years."

Dr. Delmonico noted that "a person with a split personality (schizophrenia) isn't in contact with reality. He knows all the techniques of evasion and police questioning would not faze him at all. He would remain cool throughout and lying wouldn't bother him."

King Says Walls Crumble

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—Dr. Martin Luther King, the man who called Birmingham the most thoroughly segregated big city in the nation, said today the agreement ending racial hostilities here shows the "futility of massive resistance to integration."

"The walls of segregation in the South will crumble," said King, the Atlanta minister who came here to spearhead the desegregation drive which resulted in mass arrests and violence.

"The victory in Birmingham is of great significance throughout the South."

The pact was announced Friday afternoon and quashed fears that Alabama's largest city would

Groundbreaking Soon For 'Hills Theatre

Groundbreaking is expected within the next few days for the 1,200-seat movie house in the Fairless Hills Shopping Center.

Final plans and specifications have been submitted to John Banko, Falls Township building and zoning officer. He said he expected a building application shortly. Since no zoning question is involved, immediate approval is expected.

Finished in Brick

Completion of construction is slated for September.

The ultra-modern building will be built of structural steel and finished in brick and enamel steel. Ample parking facilities will be provided.

The total cost of the theatre—including construction, purchase and preparation of the ground, architect's fees, and furnishings—is estimated in excess of $400,000. The theatre will be one in a chain of approximately seven movie houses owned by the Eric Theatre Corp., of which Samuel Shapiro is president.

The builder is Edward Lawrence.

Informed sources here said they doubted the controversy would be allowed to grow to the point where planes would be grounded wholesale. They felt the deadline would be postponed a week or 10 days to let tempers cool and make agreement possible.

Man Charged With Larceny

A Cornwells Heights man was arrested yesterday on larceny charges by Hulmeville police.

Carl Loomis, 26, of 3906 Hulmeville Road, was released under $500 bail for a further hearing by Hulmeville Justice of the Peace Mark Shapcott.

The arrest was made on charges that Loomis, a night watchman at the Varnholt Paper Mill, Hulmeville, stole money from a company desk during his duties.

The thefts allegedly occurred over a six week period and totaled more than $200. Hulmeville police said Loomis admitted the thefts.

Garber said he became suspicious of Loomis when he noticed he wore sneakers. Investigation had previously revealed sneaker marks in the area of the thefts.

String Band Member Killed

A Pennsylvania Turnpike worker, on his way to Parkland after work, was killed Thursday evening on the pike.

Killed in a traffic accident was Joseph Del Rossi, 58, of Philadelphia. Del Rossi stayed with an aunt, Mrs. Caroline Piliero, 855 Ave. F., Parkland, during the week.

He was a member of the Greater Bucks County String Band. He was driving a pick-up truck belonging to Mrs. Piliero when the accident occurred. It was reported.

Trevose Man Injured In Fiery Crash

A Trevose man was injured yesterday afternoon in the fiery collision of three vehicles on Route 1, at Oxford Valley Road, Falls Township.

Leslie I. Graham, 64, of 3346 Azalea Ave., was treated at Mercer Hospital, Trenton, for contusions of the left elbow and right knee. Falls police said he was released.

According to police, Graham was going west on Route 1 when his car was struck in the rear by a tractor-trailer driven by Johnnie Lee Young, 42, of Philadelphia.

Police said the impact forced Graham's car into an empty tractor-trailer parked along the road.

Graham escaped when his car burst into flames. His car was completely destroyed, police said.

Firemen from the Fairless Hills and Falls Township No. 1 companies extinguished the blaze.

The Delaware Valley Rescue Squad took Graham to the hospital. Patrolmen Laurence Nolan and Sergeant Joseph Kish are continuing the investigation.

The truck driver was not injured, it was reported. The accident occurred at 3:05 p.m.

Streets Will Get New Look

Streets in the Stonybrook, Farmbrook, and Kenwood sections of Levittown will be resurfaced next week in Bristol Township's road program.

Township Manager Vincent H. Hartley announced the following lanes will be closed to all traffic on the days listed:

Monday — Spiral, Spring, Sweetbriar, Shelter and Starlight Lanes in Stonybrook.

Tuesday — Swan, Shadetree, Sunset, Stream and Summer Lanes in Stonybrook; Freedom and Fire-side Lanes in Farmbrook.

Wednesday — Fortune, Forest, Fawn, Favored and Flower Lanes in Farmbrook.

Thursday — Kindie, Kingapple, Kentucky and Key Lanes and Kenwood Crossing in Kenwood.

Friday — Kernel, Kingwood, Keystone and Kraft Lanes in Kenwood.

Hartley said the schedule would remain the same unless inclement weather interferes with the work of the road crews.

The manager again urged residents to cooperate by taking their cars off the streets the night before work is scheduled on their street.

a few years, perhaps as part of a diplomatic exchange.

Tremendous applause broke out in the hall when the sentences were announced.

State prosecutor Artem Gorny brought the trial to its climax Friday by demanding the death sentence for Penkovsky and a 10-year prison term for Wynne.

Gorny said there was "no need to sentence Wynne to death. But of Penkovsky, he said:

"It is difficult to find a measure for the weightiness and baseness of the actions committed by the accused Penkovsky. There are crimes which cannot be atoned for in any way. There is no place for the traitorous spy who has sold his motherland and I demand that Penkovsky be sentenced to death."

5 Hurt In Three-Car Collision In Bensalem

Levittown Girl Suffers Arm Injuries

Five persons were injured in a three-car collision early this morning on U. S. 1 at Trevose Road, Bensalem Township.

Admitted to Lower Bucks County Hospital with multiple lacerations of the head was Howard Wells, 39, of Philadelphia, one of the drivers.

Treated and released was William K. Robbins, 25, of Riverton, N.J. Bensalem police charged Robbins with reckless driving. He suffered a shoulder injury. His passenger, Gail Thomson, 19, of 53 Robin Hill Lane, Red Cedar Hill, Levittown, suffered contusions of the right arm. She was released after treatment.

Others Injured

The third driver, Hazel M. Morton, 45, of Camden, N.J. suffered a laceration of the head and contusions of the chest. Her passenger, Rebecca Elliott, 38, also of Camden, suffered lacerations of both legs. Both were treated and released.

Police said Morton was moving south on Route 1 and Robbins and Wells were going north when the collision occurred at 2:48 a.m.

The Bensalem Rescue Squad took the injured to the hospital. Officers William Edwards and Thomas Walsh investigated.

decathlon champions"), and he took a spin in a jet airplane.

The traditional Mercury "weather watch" around the world has begun. Experts were keeping particularly critical eyes on conditions at the Cape Canaveral launching area and in the main recovery areas in the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

Weather Outlook Promising

Generally, the outlook for good weather on launch day remained better than usual for this time of year. Weathermen said there was "some question" about the central Pacific and the Bermuda areas of the Atlantic, but that neither appeared a serious threat yet.

The plan calls for Cooper to blast off aboard an Atlas rocket Tuesday morning and return for a landing in the Pacific near Midway Island late the following day. Recovery forces are strung around the world, to take care of almost any emergency.

Appeal Made On Polio Shots

The Lower Bucks Committee for the Prevention of Polio, in a special Mother's Day appeal, called on Bucks County's commissioners to reverse their stand and provide polio shots for Bucks County children "through our schools."

Isaac Ben Ezra, committee chairman, said "with the onset of another polio season, providing polio shots in every school in Bucks County would re-assure mothers that everything is being done to protect our children from the crippling ravages of polio."

Woman Injured In Accident

A two car accident on Route 1 in front of the Lincoln Drive-in, Bensalem, last night injured a Levittown woman.

Admitted to Delaware Valley Hospital with splash injuries was Mrs. Agnes H. McKelvie, 45, of 22 Vividleaf Lane.

Mrs. McKelvie was injured when her car was in collision with an auto driven by Albert H. Bauer Jr., 23, of Philadelphia.

Bensalem police said Bauer's car struck Mrs. McKelvie's vehicle in the rear. No charges were made against either driver, it was reported.

To Climax Lawn Fete

'Miss DV Hospital' Contest On May 24

Applicants are now being interviewed for the "Miss Delaware Valley Hospital" contest, to be held at 7 p.m. on May 24.

The contest will be the climax of the annual lawn fete to be held on the hospital grounds.

Many Awards

The contestants will appear in formal gowns, and the winner will receive a $50 U.S. Savings Bond, given by the hospital; a Marion Whipp portrait, donated by the Mill St. Businessmen's Association; a formal gown, donated by the French Shop, Bristol; evening shoes, from Ballow's Shoe Store, Bristol; a $75 certificate towards a modeling course; and $25 in gift certificates.

Application forms can be obtained from the hospital lobby or from several stores on Mill St., Bristol. Contestants must be Bucks County residents between the ages of 18 and 21.

The Judges

The judges of the beauty contest are Miss Kathy Finegan, Woman's Page editor of the Courier-Times; Stu Wayne, WBCB radio station; Leon Plavin, Auto Boys, Bristol, and Joseph Dumlin, administrator of DV Hospital. The MC will be Dr. Arnold Melnick, pediatrician at the hospital.

Rally Dance Held For Fritz

Politics showed its lighter side last night when an overflow crowd jammed the party room of The Fiesta in Cornwells Heights to cheer its Republican candidate for county commissioner — Harry W. Fritz.

Fritz, an independent Republican running for the county post, was host to the throng of Bucks County voters at a rally-dance that featured much gaiety and little politics.

During the period set aside for speeches, Fritz continued his campaign keynote of Progress for Bucks County.

Fritz is a Lower Southampton supervisor.

Twp. GOP Backs Shots In Schools

Bristol Township's Republican Organization today threw its support behind the bid to renew polio inoculations in schools throughout the county.

Leroy Evans, organization chairman, announced the group's intention after meeting with the five township Republican commissioners. He said "the Republican commissioners are 100 per cent behind the efforts of the Lower Bucks Committee for the Prevention of Polio in its drive to re-instate the much needed program."

Commissioners Harry W. Fawkes, Arthur F. Diehl Jr., Charles Worthington, Samuel U. Delp and Carl F. Vetter joined with Evans in supporting the movement. Fawkes, Diehl, Worthington and Delp are candidates for re-election in the May 21 primary. Vetter is not seeking re-election in the third ward.

Russell Boggs, Republican commissioner candidate in the third ward, told Evans he too is in favor of the county commissioners reversing their stand and re-instituting the mass immunization program through school clinics.

"The facts prove the need," Evans declared. "With 43,000 children receiving polio shots in the schools last year, it's evident that such a program cannot be abandoned at this time."

Township police said Murphy will be charged with failure to yield the right of way.

The injured were taken to Lower Bucks County Hospital. Murphy and Miss Friel were treated and released. Tomlinson was still under observation later this morning.

Burglary Try Is Foiled

An attempted burglary in Indian Creek, Levittown, was foiled last night by a quick-thinking neighbor.

The attempt occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Alcott, 75 Ivy Hill Road, who were away at the time.

An across-the-street neighbor saw two teenage boys in the Alcott's bedroom and tried to keep them in the home.

The boys escaped, however, and ran toward the Quincy Hollow section of Levittown.

Bristol Township police are investigating. Nothing was taken, it was reported. The incident occurred at 8:15 p.m.

The neighbor was not named by police.

A group of men approached. Private Arthur got up happily, fired three shots in the air and started walking toward them.

The infantrymen dropped to their knees and began firing at him.

Finally, the infantrymen realized Arthur had been left out in No Man's Land by mistake and stopped firing.

Gen. Paul D. Adams, commander-in-chief of the entire U.S. strike command, said new safety procedures would be established so no other soldier would be left to meet a similar fate during next week's firing here.

Arthur, he said, had been "erroneously accounted for" as having been out of the area when the firing began.

Weather Delays Grand Opening

The grand opening of Nichols Swim Pools, Route 413 and Durham Road, Bristol Township, has been postponed until next Saturday, it was announced today.

Originally scheduled today, the opening was postponed because of bad weather.

Gene Nichols, owner, said the schedule will be the same next Saturday as originally planned. He said that business will be in full operation in the meantime.
